

World Book Day

Thursday 4th March

To celebrate World Book Day, we want to do something different this year! We normally tell you to:

- Dress up as a favourite character
  - Make a book mark
  - Create a poster.
- Retell your favourite story
- Take a picture of you “Extreme Reading”
- Some schools have even asked their pupils to make potatoes into book characters!!

But no we are not doing any of that this year. Instead we want YOU to decide how you will celebrate! Let your imagination go wild! Demonstrate to us good ways to celebrate reading. Who knows we might then copy your good ideas for next year!

To allow you time to really get into a good book we are giving you a break from your normal daily lessons and activities. That's correct - no worksheets to be completed! It's important for our Mental Health that we can make time to do things we enjoy. So take Thursday 4th March and make it your day!

Remember as part of the deal you must promise to read, read and read and post us a picture/photograph of what you did.

Upload your photographs to your teacher by 2pm so we can display on them our webpage and Facebook.

Happy Reading- enjoy your well-earned break!
